METEOROLOGICAL JOURNALS

This compilation is intended to serve as a reference list of substantive journals in the field of meteorology currently being published worldwide. Only those journals whose subject matter is focused primarily on meteorological topics have been included. Hence broader geophysical journals and journals devoted mainly to hydrology, polar studies and environmental pollution are omitted. Also omitted were newsletters and periodicals consisting mostly of data collections, periodic weather summaries, climatic forecasts, and the like. Monographic series were not included: these may be the subject of a later bibliography.

Journals currently received by the NOAA Library are marked with an asterisk (*).

Questions about this material may be addressed to: Reference Desk, NOAA Central Library, 6009 Executive Blvd., Rockville, MD 20852, or call (301) 443-8330.
