STATUS OF FISHERIES OF THE UNITED STATES REPORT TO CONGRESS SEPTEMBER 1997

Executive Summary

The Sustainable Fisheries Act [SFA (Public Law 104-297)], which reauthorizes and amends the Magnuson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act (Magnuson-Stevens Act) was signed into law by President Clinton on October 11, 1996. The reauthorized Magnuson-Stevens Act requires the Secretary of Commerce (Secretary) to report to Congress annually on the status of fisheries within each Council's geographical area of authority and identify those fisheries that are overfished or are approaching a condition of being overfished.

Although this report identifies a significant number of stocks that are overfished, the list will likely be expanded in the next year or two as the provisions of the SFA are fully implemented. In accordance with the requirements of the SFA, the basis for the identification of overfished stocks is the current overfishing definition found in the Fishery Management Plans (FMPs). The SFA also defined "overfished" and "overfishing," and required that FMP definitions, amended to be consistent with the new statutory definition, be submitted to the Secretary by October 11, 1998. As these new FMP definitions are submitted and approved, additional stocks will likely be identified as overfished.

Based on the criteria specified in the Magnuson-Stevens Act, the Report on the Status of Fisheries finds that 86 species are listed as "overfished," 183 species are listed as "not overfished," and 10 species are considered to be approaching an overfished condition; for 448 species, the status relative to overfishing is unknown. Whenever possible, species were assessed using existing overfishing definitions in FMPs or FMPs under development; the remainder were evaluated using the 1995 edition of Our Living Oceans.

Introduction

This report to Congress responds to section 304(e)(1) of the Magnuson-Stevens Act, as amended by the SFA on October 11, 1996:

(1) The Secretary shall report annually to the Congress and the Councils on the status of fisheries within each Council's geographical area of authority and identify those fisheries that are overfished or are approaching a condition of being overfished. For those fisheries managed under a fishery management plan or international agreement, the status shall be determined using the criteria for overfishing specified in such plan or agreement. A fishery shall be classified as approaching a condition of being overfished if, based on trends in fishing effort, fishery resource size, and other appropriate factors, the Secretary estimates that the fishery will become overfished within two years.

This report constitutes the National Marine Fisheries Service's (NMFS) first annual report to Congress and the Councils in compliance with section 304(e)(1).

Listing of Species

There are currently 39 approved and implemented FMPs and 5 FMPs under development; there are numerous other fisheries in the U.S. EEZ for which there are no FMPs at this time. Some FMPs contain only one or a few species in the management unit, while others contain more than 100 species. To assess fully the status of the fish stocks within the U.S. EEZ, individual species were broken out to the extent possible for each fishery or FMP, and each species was separately assessed.

A table was created listing each species within a management unit identified in an FMP, the associated management body, a determination of whether the species is overfished, a determination of whether it is approaching an overfished condition, and the basis of the overfishing definition (see Table A1). Similar tables were created for species not contained in FMPs (Table A2), and for species contained in FMPs under development (Table A3). Species to be included in Table A2 were identified by NMFS as those for which a substantial portion of the stock occurs within the EEZ.

Basis for Determining Status of Overfishing

As required by section 304(e)(1) of the Magnuson-Stevens Act, for those species managed under an FMP or international agreement, the status determination was based on the criteria for overfishing (i.e., the overfishing definition) specified in the FMP or agreement whenever possible (see Appendices 1, 2, 3, and 4). For most species, the existing overfishing definitions are based wholly or in part on a fishing mortality rate. Such definitions typically assess the species on the basis of whether overfishing (as a rate of removals) is currently taking place (i.e., whether the current fishing mortality rate is greater than the maximum allowable rate specified in the definition). FMPs that base their definition on something other than a fishing mortality rate, such as stock biomass, typically assess overfishing of the species on the basis of the current status of the stock relative to a stock or index level specified in the definition of overfishing. To distinguish the type of definition applied, the tables include a column providing the basis of the overfishing definition.

For all species for which there is an approved overfishing definition contained in the FMP or an overfishing definition contained in the FMP under development, the status of the stock relative to the FMP definition was used to determine the status of the species and whether or not it is approaching an overfished condition. Species (1) for which there are no FMPs or international agreements, but that are under the Councils' geographic area of authority or under the Secretary's management authority pursuant to section 302(a)(3); (2) that are contained in an FMP or an FMP under development, but that do not have an overfishing definition; or (3) for which the overfishing definition is inadequate to make a determination of overfishing, the 1995 edition of Our Living Oceans (OLO) was used to determine the status relative to overfishing. In OLO, the term "overfishing" is not used, but a similar concept, which relates the stock size to the stock size that would produce "Long Term Potential Yield" (LTPY) is used. Species that are listed in OLO as "below" and "far below" stock levels necessary to produce LTPY are considered "overfished," and those listed as "near" and "above" stock levels necessary to produce LTPY are considered "not overfished." The SFA defines "overfished" as a rate or level of fishing mortality that jeopardizes the capacity of a fishery to produce the maximum sustainable yield (MSY) on a continuing basis. LTPY, as used in OLO, is analogous to MSY. Thus, the conclusions reached in OLO approximate the conclusions that would be drawn if an assessment had been made using the SFA's generic definition of "overfished." OLO determinations are considered stock level based definitions. Because OLO does not make a determination of whether the stock is "approaching an overfished condition," that determination could not be made for those species assessed using OLO. For species that have no overfishing definition or for which there is no determination of stock status in OLO, the overfished status is listed as "Unknown" and the basis of overfishing definition is listed as "No Definition."

Information regarding the overfished status of species is continually evolving and has become available since the most recent publication of OLO. For those cases for which there is updated information in a citable form, that information was used to determine the status of each species in this report. It is recognized that this approach may not include all "preliminary" information for each species. However, this approach is taken to minimize potential confusion as conclusions about stock conditions change with changes in "preliminary" information. For example, the conclusions reached in OLO regarding the overfished status of spiny dogfish, Atlantic halibut, and tilefish may not agree with additional, not yet citable, information that has become available since the publication of OLO.

Results

Using the methodology described above to assess the status of the fisheries, there are currently 86 species classified as "overfished," 183 species classified as "not overfished," 10 species that are "approaching an overfished condition," and 448 species whose status is unknown. The categories "not overfished" and "approaching an overfished condition" are mutually exclusive. Any species listed as "approaching an overfished condition" (because it is estimated that it will become "overfished" within 2 years) is not included in the "not overfished" category, even though it is currently not overfished. This is to eliminate double-counting of the species analyzed in this report.

Conclusion

Based on the identifications made in this report, the Councils are now required to develop programs to end overfishing and rebuild some 76 overfished stocks, and to prevent overfishing from occurring for the 10 stocks that are approaching an overfished condition. This involves at least 19 FMPs that will have to be submitted for approval within the next year. There are also 10 stocks that are overfished but are not covered by FMPs; plans must be developed to end overfishing and rebuild affected stocks in these fisheries in the same timeframe. The rebuilding programs must be as short as possible, but not exceed 10 years, except in cases where the biology of the stock of fish, other environmental conditions, or management measures under an international agreement in which the United States participates dictate otherwise.

The majority of stocks (61%) identified in this report were assessed as unknown in terms of their status relative to overfishing; there are 428 stocks that are contained in FMPs whose status is unknown and 20 stocks not contained in FMPs whose status is unknown. Additional efforts to obtain information necessary to assess these stocks will be required before their status can be determined. As the status of these stocks become known, some will require that measures be taken to end or prevent overfishing in fisheries managed under an FMP, and others will require that an FMP be developed.

Under the amended provisions of the Magnuson-Stevens Act, the Councils will be required to reassess each FMP for compliance with the overfishing provisions. Many of the FMPs will require amendments to bring them into conformance. In particular, each overfishing definition will need to be examined on the basis of its ability to ensure stock levels that can produce MSY on a continuing basis, rather than simply addressing recruitment overfishing, as is typically the case in many existing FMPs. Based on this change, it is possible that many species that are now classified as "not overfished" in this report on the basis of a fishing mortality rate definition will ultimately be reassessed as "overfished" when the FMPs and overfishing definitions are amended consistent with the new requirements of the Magnuson-Stevens Act. Consequently, this report represents a minimum number of overfished fisheries of the United States, and will probably understate the number of fisheries that will eventually be determined to be overfished.

Appendix 1. Overfishing Definitions Contained in Fishery Management Plans

The following definitions are as contained in the Fishery Management Plans, with minor editing changes to maintain consistency of terms. See Appendix 5 for definitions of acronyms used in this appendix.

Atlantic Sea Scallop - Overfishing is defined as a fishing mortality rate that, if continued, results in a spawning stock biomass of 5% of the maximum spawning potential (MSP). The corresponding target fishing mortality (F) will be calculated as a level that will result in a 5% MSP under equilibrium conditions.

Atlantic Salmon - No overfishing definition exists in the FMP.

American Lobster - The American lobster resource is considered recruitment overfished when, throughout its range, the fishing mortality rate (F), given the regulations in place at that time under the suite of regional management measures, results in a reduction in estimated egg production per recruit to 10% or less of a non-fished population.

The development of the status of the stock report and the evaluation of the fishery induced effects will consider information based upon one or more indices including, but not limited to: Larval abundance index in surface waters; larval settlement index; pre-recruit indices by year-class; landings; size composition of the landings spawning stock biomass; numbers of egg-bearing females; effort levels and catch-per-unit-of-effort (CPUE); and possible development of relationships of biological parameters to water temperature or other environmental parameters.

Northeast Multispecies

Cod (Gulf of Maine, Georges Bank) - Overfishing occurs when the fishing mortality rate exceeds the rate associated with 20% MSP.

Haddock (Georges Bank, Gulf of Maine) - Overfishing is defined for Gulf of Maine haddock as the fishing mortality rate associated with 20% MSP, and for Georges Bank haddock, the fishing mortality rate associated with 30% MSP.

Yellowtail Flounder (Georges Bank, Southern New England, Cape Cod, Middle Atlantic) - Overfishing occurs when the fishing mortality rate exceeds the rate associated with 20% MSP.

American Plaice - Overfishing occurs when the fishing mortality rate exceeds the rate associated with 20% MSP.

Redfish - Overfishing occurs when the fishing mortality rate exceeds the rate associated with 20% MSP.

Witch Flounder - Overfishing occurs when the fishing mortality rate exceeds the rate associated with 20% MSP.

White Hake - Overfishing occurs when the 3-year moving average of the species abundance index from the Northeast Fisheries Science Center's bottom trawl survey falls below the lowest quartile of the time series.

Pollock - Overfishing occurs when the fishing mortality rate exceeds the rate associated with 20% MSP.

Windowpane Flounder - Overfishing occurs when the 3-year moving average of the species abundance index from the Northeast Fisheries Science Center's bottom trawl survey falls below the lowest quartile of the time series.

Winter Flounder (Georges Bank, Gulf of Maine, Southern New England) - Overfishing occurs when the fishing mortality rate exceeds the rate associated with 20% MSP.

Silver Hake (Gulf of Maine / Northern Georges Bank, Southern Georges Bank / Middle Atlantic) - Overfishing occurs whenever the 4-year running average percent maximum spawning potential (%MSP) is less than the threshold %MSP, which is 31% for the Maine / Northern Georges Bank stock and 42% for the Southern Georges Bank / Mid-Atlantic stock.

Red Hake - Overfishing occurs when the 3-year moving average of the species abundance index from the Northeast Fisheries Science Center's bottom trawl survey falls below the lowest quartile of the time series.

Ocean Pout - Overfishing occurs when the 3-year moving average of the species abundance index from the Northeast Fisheries Science Center's bottom trawl survey falls below the lowest quartile of the time series.

Summer Flounder, Scup, and Black Sea Bass

Scup - Overfishing is defined as fishing in excess of F_{max} .

Summer Flounder - Overfishing is defined as fishing in excess of F_{max}.

Black Sea Bass - Overfishing is defined as fishing in excess of F_{max}.

Bluefish (except Gulf of Mexico) - Overfishing is defined as a level of fishing that exceeds the fishing mortality rate that results in the highest sustainable yield (MSY).

Surf Clams and Ocean Quahogs

Surf Clam - The overfishing definition for surf clams is the fishing mortality rate of F_{20%} (20% of MSP).

Ocean Quahog - The overfishing definition for ocean quahogs is the fishing mortality rate of F_{25%} (25% MSP).

Atlantic Mackerel, Squid, and Butterfish

Illex Squid - Overfishing is defined as when the catch associated with a threshold fishing mortality of F_{20%} is exceeded.

Loligo Squid - Overfishing is defined to occur when the catch associated with a threshold fishing mortality rate of F_{max} is exceeded.

Atlantic Mackerel - Overfishing is defined as the catch of Atlantic mackerel that exceeds the annual allowable biological catch (ABC) for the species. The fishing mortality rate associated with the total catch of Atlantic mackerel shall not exceed $F_{0.1}$. ABC is the allowable biological catch in U.S. waters for the upcoming year and C is defined as the quantity of mackerel that is expected to be caught in Canadian waters. ABC + C = Total catch of mackerel. In addition, a spawning stock size (S) of no less than 900,000 mt shall be maintained at the end of the fishing year for which estimates and quotas are being prepared.

Butterfish (Atlantic) - Overfishing is defined to occur when the 3-year moving average of pre-recruits from the Northeast Fisheries Science Center's autumn bottom trawl falls within the lowest quartile of the time series or when the landings exceed a threshold fishing mortality of F_{msv}.

Golden Crab - Overfishing is defined as any rate of fishing mortality in excess of F_{msy} for golden crab in the South Atlantic Council's management area.

Shrimp Fishery of the South Atlantic

White Shrimp - Overfishing is indicated when the overwintering white shrimp population within a state's water declines by 80% or more following severe winter weather resulting in prolonged cold water temperatures. Continued fishing following such a decline may reduce the reproductive capacity of the stock affecting subsequent recruitment and would be considered overfishing.

Rock Shrimp - The South Atlantic rock shrimp resource is overfished when the annual landings exceed the value which is two standard deviations above mean landings for the period 1986-1994. This level, based on the more accurate state data, is approximately 6,829,449 pounds, heads on.

Brown Shrimp - The South Atlantic brown shrimp resources are overfished when annual landings fall below two standard deviations below mean landings for the period 1957-1993 for 3 consecutive years (2,946,157 pounds, heads on).

Pink Shrimp - The South Atlantic pink shrimp resources are overfished when annual landings fall below two standard deviations below mean landings for the period 1957-1993 for 3 consecutive years (286,293 pounds, heads on).

South Atlantic Snapper-Grouper

Jewfish

- 1. Jewfish are overfished when the stock is below the level of 40% of the spawning stock biomass per recruit that would occur in the absence of fishing.
- 2. When jewfish are overfished, overfishing is defined as harvesting at a rate that is not consistent with a program that has been established to rebuild the stock or stock complex to the 40% spawning stock biomass per recruit level.
- 3. When jewfish are not overfished, overfishing is defined as a harvesting rate that, if continued, would lead to a state of the stock or stock complex that would not at least allow a harvest of OY on a continuing basis.
- 4. The threshold level is 30% SSBR; below this level, no harvest or possession of jewfish is allowed.

Note: The definition of Optimum Yield for jewfish is 40% SSBR.

Nassau Grouper, Vermilion Snapper, Red Porgy, Gag, Red Snapper, Scamp, Speckled Hind, Snowy Grouper, Warsaw Grouper, Golden Tilefish, White Grunt, Black Sea Bass, Gray Triggerfish, Queen Triggerfish, Ocean Triggerfish, Yellow Jack, Blue Runner, Crevalle Jack, Bar Jack, Greater Amberjack, Lesser Amberjack, Almaco Jack, Banded Rudderfish, Spadefish, Black Margate, Porkfish, Margate, Tomtate, Smallmouth Grunt, French Grunt, Spanish Grunt, Cottonwick, Sailors Choice, Blue Stripe Grunt, Hogfish, Puddingwife, Black Snapper, Queen Snapper, Mutton Snapper, Schoolmaster, Blackfin Snapper, Cubera Snapper, Gray Snapper, Mahogany Snapper, Dog Snapper, Lane Snapper, Silk Snapper, Yellowtail Snapper, Blueline Tilefish, Sand Tilefish, Wreckfish, Bank Sea Bass, Rock Sea Bass, Rock Hind, Graysby, Yellowedge Grouper, Coney, Red Hind, Red Grouper, Misty Grouper, Black Grouper, Yellowmouth Grouper, Tiger Grouper, Yellowfin Grouper, Sheepshead, Grass Porgy, Jolthead Porgy, Saucereye Porgy, Whitebone Porgy, Knobbed Porgy, Longspine Porgy, Scup -

- 2. When a snapper-grouper stock or stock complex is overfished, overfishing is defined as harvesting at a rate that is not consistent with a program that has been established to rebuild the stock or stock complex to the 30% spawning stock biomass per recruit level.
- 3. When a snapper-grouper stock or stock complex is not overfished, overfishing is defined as a harvesting rate that, if continued, would lead to a state of the stock or stock complex that would not at least allow a harvest of OY on a continuing basis.

Note: For a snapper-grouper stock or stock complex, Optimum Yield is defined as 30% SSBR.

Red Drum (Atlantic coast) - Overfishing is defined as a fishing mortality rate that will, if continued, reduce the spawning potential ratio (SPR) below 30% of the level that would exist at equilibrium without fishing.

Coral, Coral Reefs, and Live / Hard Bottom Habitats of the South Atlantic Region

Fire Corals, Hydrocorals, Octocorals, Stony Corals, Black Corals - Overfishing is defined as an annual level of harvest that exceeds optimum yield (OY). OY for coral reefs, stony corals, hydrocorals, black corals, seafans, and live rock is zero, except as may be authorized for scientific and educational purposes. Harvest of allowable octocorals in the EEZ is not to exceed 50,000 colonies per year (Gulf and South Atlantic EEZ combined).

Stone Crab - Overfishing exists when the realized egg production per recruit is reduced below 70% of potential production. Overfishing will be avoided when there is a minimum claw length (length of propodus) that assures survival of the crabs to achieve 70% egg production per recruit potential.

Shrimp Fishery of the Gulf of Mexico

Brown Shrimp - Recruitment overfishing is indicated where parent stock levels are reduced below 125 million shrimp. This value is slightly lower than the 1983 level of parent stock, which is the lowest observed value since 1960. Parent stock is defined for brown shrimp as the number of age 7+ (months) shrimp during the November through February period.

Pink Shrimp - Recruitment overfishing in the eastern Gulf of Mexico (statistical areas 1-12) is indicated where parent stock levels are reduced below 100 million shrimp. Parent stock is defined for pink shrimp as the number of 5+ (months) shrimp during the July through June period. Pink shrimp in the western U.S. Gulf were not included in this definition because mixed catches of brown and pink shrimp are not separated and are landed, sold, and statistically treated as brown shrimp.

White Shrimp - Recruitment overfishing is indicated where parent stock levels are reduced below 330 million shrimp. Parent stock is defined for pink shrimp as the number of age 7+ (months) shrimp during the May through August period.

Royal Red Shrimp - Recruitment overfishing is defined as fishing greater than optimum yield (OY). OY is set at MSY (maximum sustainable yield), which was estimated to be 392,000 pounds of tails over 1,290 days fished. Royal red shrimp differ from penaeid shrimp in that they are not estuarine dependent but exist in a relatively constant environment in the deeper waters of the Gulf of Mexico (100 to 300 fathoms). Thus, they conform more closely to a classical Schaefer-type fishery.

Rock Shrimp, Seabob Shrimp - No overfishing definition exists in the FMP.

Coral and Coral Reefs of the Gulf of Mexico

Fire Corals, Hydrocorals, Octocorals, Stony Corals, Black Corals - Overfishing is defined as an annual level of harvest that exceeds optimum yield (OY). OY for coral reefs, stony corals, hydrocorals, black corals, seafans, and live rock is zero, except as may be authorized for scientific and educational purposes. Harvest of allowable octocorals in the EEZ is not to exceed 50,000 colonies per year (Gulf and South Atlantic EEZ combined).

Spiny Lobster Fishery of the South Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico

Spiny Lobster - Overfishing exists when the eggs-per-recruit (EPR) ratio of the exploited population to the unexploited population is reduced below 5% and recruitment of small lobsters into the fishery has declined for 3 consecutive fishing years. Overfishing will be avoided when the EPR ratio of exploited to unexploited populations is maintained above 5%.

Slipper Lobster - No overfishing definition exists in the FMP.

Coastal Migratory Pelagics of the South Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico

Gulf and Atlantic group King Mackerel, Gulf and Atlantic group Spanish Mackerel, Cobia A mackerel and cobia stock shall be considered overfished if the spawning potential ratio (SPR) is less than the target level percentage recommended by the assessment panel, approved by the Scientific and Statistical Committee (SSC) and adopted by the Councils. The target level percentage shall not be less than 20%. Based on the recommendation of the assessment panel and approved by the SSC, the Councils and the Regional Director have approved a SPR of 30% for king and Spanish mackerel. No SPR estimate has been calculated for cobia. In the absence of an SPR estimate, an MSY of 2.2 million pounds is substituted. The MSY is based on the average annual landings (commercial and recreational) for the period 1984 - 1991.

When a reef fish stock or stock complex is overfished, overfishing is defined as harvesting at a rate that is not consistent with a program that has been established to rebuild the stock or stock complex to the 20% SPR level.

When a reef fish stock or stock complex is not overfished, overfishing is defined as a harvesting rate that if continued would lead to a state of the stock or stock complex that would not at least allow a harvest of optimum yield on a continuing basis.

Red Drum - (Gulf of Mexico) Overfishing is defined as a fishing mortality that prohibits attaining the spawning stock goal or threshold, which is currently set at a 20% spawning stock biomass ratio.

Spiny Lobster (Caribbean) - A spiny lobster stock or stock complex is overfished when it is below the level of 20% of the Spawning Potential Ratio (SPR).

When a spiny lobster stock or stock complex is overfished, overfishing is defined as the harvesting rate that is not consistent with a program that has been established to rebuild the stock or stock complex to the 20% SPR.

When a spiny lobster stock or stock complex is not overfished, overfishing is defined as a harvesting rate that, if continued, would lead to a state that would not allow harvest at OY on a continuing basis.

The SPR for spiny lobsters is measured in terms of eggs per recruit. For monitoring the SPR, the method described by Gregory et al. (1982) will be used to compare female fecundity by length class within fished areas to that in unfished areas.

Washington, Oregon, and California Salmon

Chum Salmon, Chinook Salmon (Columbia River, upriver Summer), Chinook Salmon (Columbia River, upriver Spring), Chinook Salmon (Columbia River, Snake River, Spring), Chinook Salmon (Skagit River, Spring), Chinook Salmon (Skagit River, Summer / Fall), Chinook Salmon (Stillaguamish River, Summer / Fall), Chinook Salmon (Snohomish River, Summer / Fall), Chinook Salmon (Lake Washington), Chinook Salmon (Dungeness River), Coho Salmon (Strait of Juan de Fuca), other Chinook Salmon stocks, other Coho Salmon stocks, Pink Salmon, Sockeye Salmon - Overfishing is an occurrence whereby all mortality, regardless of the source, results in a failure of a salmon stock to meet its annual spawning escapement goal or management objective, as specified in Section 3.5 of the salmon FMP for 3 consecutive years, and for which changes in the fishery management regime offer the primary opportunity to improve stock status. While this condition is defined as overfishing in the broad sense, it is recognized that this situation may also be the result of nonfishing mortality and fishery management actions may not adequately address the situation.

When a specific stock or stock grouping fails to meet its annual spawning escapement objective for 3 consecutive years, the Council shall appoint a work group to investigate the causes of the apparent shortfall (e.g., due to causes within or outside of Council control). The current status of stock productivity and all sources of stock mortality will be examined by the work group and a report of its conclusions and recommendations provided to the Council. For those actions within Council control, the Council may change analytical or procedural methodologies to improve the accuracy of estimates for abundance, harvest impact and MSY escapement levels, and/or to reduce ocean harvest impacts when shown to be effective in stock recovery to MSY levels.

Stocks without specified goals in the FMP are also provided significant protection against overfishing because the Council bases its management on the stock which is first reduced to its annual specified goal level by the fisheries. Such a stock could be the weakest stock or an abundant stock which is heavily impacted by ocean salmon fisheries.

Northern Anchovy - No harvest of any kind when the spawning biomass during the current and preceding season was less than 50,000 mt. Harvests are resumed only when the spawning biomass equals or exceeds 50,000 mt.

Washington, Oregon, and California Groundfish

When spawning biomass is greater than that which produces MSY, set F_{OF} equal to the greater of $F_{20\%}$ and the rate that would, in 1 year, reduce the spawning biomass to the level that produces MSY.

Overfishing parameters to be compared to the standards cannot be estimated for all species because of the wide range of knowledge available for the species managed under the FMP. Three categories of species are identified. The first includes the few species for which a quantitative stock assessment can be conducted on the basis of a catch-at-age or other data. The second category includes a large number of species for which some biological indicators are available, but a quantitative analysis cannot be completed. The third category includes minor species that are caught, but for which there is, at best, only partial information on landed biomass.

Precious Corals of the Western Pacific

Pink Corals, Gold Corals, Bamboo Corals, Black Corals - An established coral bed shall be deemed overfished with respect to recruitment when the total spawning biomass (all species combined) has been reduced to 20% of its unfished condition.

Pelagic Fisheries of the Western Pacific

Yellowfin Tuna (Central Western Pacific), Albacore (South Pacific), Albacore (North Pacific), Yellowfin Tuna (Eastern Tropical Pacific), Skipjack Tuna (Central Western Pacific), Skipjack Tuna (Eastern Tropical Pacific), Striped Marlin, Black Marlin, Bigeye Tuna (Pacific), other Tuna relatives: Auxis spp., Scomber spp., Allothunnus spp., Swordfish (Pacific), Sailfish (Pacific), Shortbill Spearfish (Pacific), Wahoo (Pacific), Mahimahi (Pacific), Blue Marlin (Pacific), Opah, Oilfish, Escolar - A stock is overfished when its spawning potential ratio (SPR) is equal to or less than 0.20. SPR may be estimated in several ways, using estimates of spawning stock biomass, spawning stock biomass per recruit, spawning stock catch per unit of effort, and exploitable stock biomass. The common element for all calculations is the attempt to assess the status of current spawning potential against the spawning potential of an unfished population. The use of a specific measure will depend on the availability of data for the stock and fisheries involved.

Pelagic Sharks - A stock is overfished when its spawning potential ratio (SPR) is equal to or less than 0.35. SPR may be estimated in several ways, using estimates of spawning stock biomass, spawning stock biomass per recruit, spawning stock catch per unit of effort, and exploitable stock biomass. The common element for all calculations is the attempt to assess the status of current spawning potential against the spawning potential of an unfished population. The use of a specific measure will depend on the availability of data for the stock and fisheries involved.

Gulf of Alaska Groundfish

Walleye Pollock, Pacific Cod, Sablefish, Atka Mackerel, Thornyhead Rockfish, Dusky Rockfish, Dover Sole, Flathead Sole, Rex Sole, Arrowtooth Flounder, Pacific Ocean Perch, Shortraker Rockfish, Rougheye Rockfish, Sculpins, Sharks, Skates, Eulachon, Smelts, Capelin, Rock Sole, Rattail, Squid, Octopus, Greenland Turbot, Black Rockfish, Blue Rockfish, Widow Rockfish, Yellowtail Rockfish, Canary Rockfish, China Rockfish, Copper Rockfish, Quillback Rockfish, Rosethorn Rockfish, Tiger Rockfish, Yelloweye Rockfish, Aurora Rockfish, Blackgill Rockfish, Bocaccio Rockfish, Chilipepper Rockfish, Darkblotch Rockfish, Greenstriped Rockfish, Harlequin Rockfish, Pygmy Rockfish, Redbanded Rockfish, Redstripe Rockfish, Sharpchin Rockfish, Shortbelly Rockfish, Silvergray Rockfish, Splitnose Rockfish, Stripetail Rockfish, Vermilion Rockfish, Yellowmouth Rockfish - Overfishing is defined as any amount of fishing in excess of a prescribed maximum allowable rate. This maximum allowable rate is prescribed through a set of six tiers [which are listed in Appendix 4] in descending order of preference, corresponding to descending order of information availability. The SSC will have final authority for determining whether a given item of information is "reliable" for the purpose of this definition, and may use either objective or subjective criteria in making such determinations. For tier (1), a "pdf" refers to a probability density function. For tiers (1-3), the coefficient is set at a default value of 0.05, with the understanding that the SSC may establish a different value for a specific stock of stock complex as merited by the best available scientific information. For tiers (2-4), a designation of the form " F_{X_8} " refers to the F associated with an equilibrium level of spawning per recruit (SPR) equal to X% of the equilibrium level of spawning per recruit in the absence of any fishing. If reliable information sufficient to characterize the entire maturity schedule of a species is not available, the SSC may choose to view SPR calculations based on a knife-edge maturity assumption as reliable. For tier (3), the term B_{40%} refers to the long-term average biomass that would be expected under average recruitment and F=F_{40%}.

Alaska Salmon

Pink Salmon, Sockeye Salmon, Chum Salmon, Coho Salmon, Chinook Salmon - Overfishing is defined as any fishing that results in the stock not meeting spawner escapement targets. Escapement targets are set by Alaska Department of Fish and Game and the U.S.-Canada Pacific Salmon Commission so that escapement will not be significantly less than needed to produce MSY. Escapement targets for major stocks of Alaska salmon are continuously evaluated based on new data and improved spawner-recruit databases. The overfishing definition notwithstanding, it is recognized that failure to meet spawner escapements may also be the result of nonfishing mortality and that fishery management actions may not adequately address the situation.

Bering Sea / Aleutian Islands Groundfish

Walleye Pollock, Pacific Cod, Yellowfin Sole, Greenland Turbot, Arrowtooth Flounder, Rock Sole, Flathead Sole, Sablefish, Pacific Ocean Perch, Sharpchin / Northern Rockfish, Shortraker / Rougheye Rockfish, Atka Mackerel, Squid, Alaska Plaice, Rex Sole, Butter Sole, Longhead Dab, Dover Sole, Starry Flounder, Rattails, Shortspine Thornyhead, Sculpins, Sharks, Skates, Eulachon, Smelts, Capelin, Octopus, Dusky Rockfish, Darkblotched Rockfish, Yelloweye Rockfish, Blue Rockfish - Overfishing is defined as any amount of fishing in excess of a prescribed maximum allowable rate. This maximum allowable rate is prescribed through a set of six tiers [which are listed in Appendix 4] in descending order of preference, corresponding to descending order of information availability. The SSC will have final authority for determining whether a given item of information is "reliable" for the purpose of this definition, and may use either objective or subjective criteria in making such determinations. For tier (1), a "pdf" refers to a probability density function. For tiers (1-3), the coefficient is set at a default value of 0.05, with the understanding that the SSC may establish a different value for a specific stock of stock complex as merited by the best available scientific information. For tiers (2-4), a designation of the form " $F_{X\%}$ " refers to the F associated with an equilibrium level of spawning per recruit (SPR) equal to X% of the equilibrium level of spawning per recruit in the absence of any fishing. If reliable information sufficient to characterize the entire maturity schedule of a species is not available, the SSC may choose to view SPR calculations based on a knife-edge maturity assumption as reliable. For tier (3), the term $B_{40\%}$ refers to the long-term average biomass that would be expected under average recruitment and $F=F_{40\%}$.

Bering Sea / Aleutian Islands King and Tanner Crabs

Islands, Northern District), Red King Crab (Bristol Bay, Norton Sound, Pribilof Islands, Aleutians), Bering Sea Snow Crab, Tanner Crab [Bering Sea, Eastern Aleutians, Adak (Western Aleutians)] - Overfishing is defined as any rate of fishing mortality in excess of F_{msy} for king and Tanner crab stocks in the Bering Sea and Aleutian Islands (BSAI) management area. Three tiers are characterized for this definition according to the data available to quantify maximum fishing mortality rate. Each of the 17 stocks in the management area is assigned to one of the tiers.

- Tier 1) Data available: Historical catch, sporadic inseason catch and effort data, and mortality. Overfishing for stocks with tier 1 data is defined as a fishing mortality rate in excess of F_{msy}, where the maximum allowable fishing mortality rate is estimated to equal the natural mortality rate of mature male crab. Inseason fishing mortality rate may be based on a change in the inseason ratio of CPUE of legal to mature male crab or a proportionate reduction in average weekly CPUE.
- Tier 2) Data available: Historical catch, continuous inseason catch and effort data, and mortality. Overfishing for stocks with tier 2 data is defined as a fishing mortality rate in excess of F_{MSY}, where the maximum allowable fishing mortality rate is estimated to equal the natural mortality rate of mature male crab. Inseason fishing mortality rate may be based on inseason CPUE and cumulative catch or legal male crab.
- Tier 3) Data available: Historical catch, continuous inseason catch and effort data, stock assessment, stock-recruitment, growth, maturity, and mortality parameters. Overfishing for stocks with tier 3 data is defined as a fishing mortality rate in excess of F_{MSY}, where the maximum allowable fishing mortality rate for these stocks cannot exceed F_{MSY} estimated as F_{0.1}, based on the size of first maturity for male crabs. Guideline harvest levels are estimated annually for tier 3 stocks, therefore the fishing mortality rate is established prior to a fishery.

Alaska Scallops - Overfishing is defined as landings that exceed the optimum yield (OY) specified for the scallop fishery. The long-term OY for the scallop resource in Federal waters off Alaska (all species) is specified as a numerical range. In the absence of biomass estimates needed to implement an exploitation rate harvest strategy, the OY is specified as the long-term productivity. The OY range is zero to 1.8 million lbs (814 mt) of shucked scallop meats, and is derived from historical catches from State and Federal waters off Alaska. The low end of the range is the lowest catch on record (zero pounds in 1978). The high end of the OY approximates the highest catch taken from the waters off Alaska since the "fishing up" period (1.8 million pounds in 1993). While the FMP covers harvests of all scallop species appearing in Alaska, only weathervane scallops Patinopecten caurinus have been harvested commercially in Federal waters off Alaska since the emergence of the fishery in the late 1960s.

- 1. When a stock size is at a level that is determined, based on the best scientific information available, to be sufficient to produce MSY on a continuing basis, overfishing is defined as a fishing mortality rate (F) that exceeds the fishing mortality rate that would produce MSY on a continuing basis (F_{MSY}).
- 2. When the stock size is below the level that is determined, based on the best scientific information available, to be sufficient to produce MSY on a continuing basis, overfishing is defined as a fishing mortality rate that exceeds the rate that is consistent with a rebuilding program established under the FMP.

Appendix 2. Overfishing Definitions for Species not Contained in Federal Fishery Management Plans

Pacific Halibut - A rate of fishing that exceeds the constant exploitation yield. The constant exploitation yield is computed using a harvest rate of 0.20 of the exploitable biomass (8-year+ Pacific halibut).

Appendix 3. Overfishing Definitions from Fishery Management Plans Under Development

See Appendix 5 for definitions of acronyms used in this appendix.

Atlantic Herring - Overfishing occurs when the fishing mortality rate exceeds the rate associated with 20% MSP. This definition is contained in the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission's Atlantic Herring FMP. There is currently no Federal FMP for Atlantic herring.

Monkfish - Monkfish in the northern and southern management areas are defined as being overfished when the 3-year moving average autumn survey weight per tow falls below the 33rd percentile of the time series for 1963-1994, or when the 3-year moving average autumn survey weight per tow falls below the median of the 3-year moving average during the period 1965-1981 and when fishing mortality is between F_{target} and F_{threshold}. This definition has been adopted by the New England Fishery Management Council and has been certified by the National Marine Fisheries Service as an acceptable overfishing definition. There is currently no Federal FMP for monkfish.

- The ratio between two stock sizes: (1) the stock size below which the fishery must be closed and (2) the long-term average stock size that would be expected in the absence of fishing. In the Gulf of Alaska and Bering Sea/Aleutian Islands Groundfish FMPs, is typically equal to 0.05.

ABC - Allowable Biological Catch - A term that refers to the range of allowable catch for a species or species group. It is set each year by a scientific group. The ABC estimates are used to set the annual total allowable catch (TAC).

ASMFC - Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission - Serves as a deliberative body of the Atlantic coastal states, coordinating the conservation and management of nearshore fishery resources, including marine, shell, and anadromous species.

B - The weight (biomass) of a group of fish.

 \underline{B}_{MSY} - The average stock size that would be expected if the fishing mortality rate were held equal to F_{MSY} for a long time.

CFMC - Caribbean Fishery Management Council.

CPUE - Catch Per Unit of Effort - The number of fish caught by an amount of effort. Typically, effort is a combination of gear type, gear size, and length of time gear is used. Catch per unit of effort is often used as a measurement of relative abundance.

EEZ - Exclusive Economic Zone - All waters from the seaward boundary of coastal states out to 200 nautical miles.

EPR - Eggs-Per-Recruit - The average number of eggs produced by an individual fish that has been recruited, i.e., that moved into a certain class, such as the spawning class or fishing-size class. Used as an index of abundance.

E - Fishing Mortality Rate - The proportion of the stock that is removed (per unit of time) by the fishery. The fishing mortality rate may be expressed in either discrete or instantaneous terms (an instantaneous fishing mortality rate is analogous to continuous compounding of interest).

 \underline{F}_{ABC} - The level of fishing mortality that results in the allowable biological catch.

 \underline{F}_{MAX} - The fishing mortality rate that maximizes lifetime yield from a cohort.

 \underline{F}_{MSY} - The fishing mortality rate that maximizes long-term average yield from a stock.

 \underline{F}_{OF} - The level of fishing mortality defined as overfishing.

 \underline{F}_{OFL} - The fishing mortality rate above which overfishing is defined to occur (see F_{OF}).

E_{20%} - The level of fishing mortality that results in a spawning potential ratio of 20% of the maximum.

 $E_{25\%}$ - The level of fishing mortality that results in a spawning potential ratio of 25% of the maximum.

 $E_{30\%}$ - The level of fishing mortality that results in a spawning potential ratio of 30% of the maximum.

 $\underline{E}_{40\%}$ - The level of fishing mortality that results in a spawning potential ratio of 40% of the maximum.

 $\underline{E}_{0.1}$ - The fishing mortality rate where an additional unit of effort provides a catch equal to one-tenth of the CPUE that would be observed if stock size were at its pristine level (i.e., the highest possible CPUE).

FMP - Fishery Management Plan - A plan to achieve specified management goals for a fishery prepared under the authority of the Magnuson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act.

GMFMC - Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council.

GSMFC - Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission - Serves as a deliberative body of the Gulf of Mexico coastal states, coordinating the conservation and management of nearshore fishery resources, including marine, shell, and anadromous species.

HMS - Highly Migratory Species Division - Develops fishery policies designed to manage any highly migratory species (tuna species, marlin, oceanic sharks, sailfishes, and swordfish) fishery that is within the geographical authority of more than one Council.

MAFMC - Middle-Atlantic Fishery Management Council.

MSP - Maximum Spawning Potential - See SPR.

MSY - Maximum Sustainable Yield - The largest long-term average catch or yield that can be taken from a stock or stock complex under prevailing ecological and environmental conditions.

NEFMC - New England Fishery Management Council.

NPFMC - North Pacific Fishery Management Council.

OY - Optimum Yield - The amount of fish that: (1) will provide the greatest overall benefit to the Nation, particularly with respect to food production and recreational opportunities, and taking into account the protection of marine ecosystems; (2) is prescribed on the basis of the MSY from the fishery, as reduced by any relevant economic, social, or ecological factors; (3) in the case of an overfished fishery, provides for rebuilding to a level consistent with producing the MSY in such fishery.

PDF - Probability Density Function - A description of the probability that a variable takes a specified value.

PFMC - Pacific Fishery Management Council.

SAFE - Stock Assessment and Fishery Evaluation - A document or set of documents that provides Councils with a summary of the most recent biological condition of species in the fishery management unit, and the social and economic condition of the recreational and commercial fishing interests and the fish processing industries. It summarizes, on a periodic basis, the best available scientific information concerning the past, present, and possible future condition of the stocks and fisheries being managed under Federal regulation.

SAFMC - South Atlantic Fishery Management Council.

SPR - Spawning Potential Ratio - The number of eggs that could be produced by an average recruit in a fished stock, divided by the number of eggs that could be produced by an average recruit in an unfished stock. SPR can also be expressed as the spawning stock biomass per recruit (SSBR) of a fished stock divided by the SSBR of the stock before it was fished.

SSB - Spawning Stock Biomass - The total weight of the fish in a stock that are old enough to spawn.

SSBR - Spawning Stock Biomass Per Recruit - The spawning stock biomass divided by the number of recruits to the stock, or how much spawning biomass an average recruit would be expected to produce.
