To All Interested Government Agencies and Public Groups:

Under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), an environmental review has been performed on the following action.

TITLE: Environmental Assessment on the final rule on spearfishing for the Gray's Reef National Marine Sanctuary

LOCATION: Gray's Reef National Marine Sanctuary, off the coast of Georgia

SUMMARY: The final rule prohibits the use of all spearfishing gear in Gray's Reef National Marine Sanctuary (GRNMS) and also prohibits possession of such gear within the sanctuary, except when stowed on a vessel transiting the sanctuary. This final rule amends an existing sanctuary regulation, which prohibits the use of spearfishing gear, if such gear includes a "powerhead" (also commonly known as a "bang stick or "shark stick"). This amendment was proposed for two reasons. First, the prohibition will better protect resources within the sanctuary. Second, the final action would facilitate enforcement efforts. Law enforcement officials have repeatedly expressed the need to prohibit all spearfishing due to the difficulties in distinguishing between powerhead and non-powerhead spearfishing.

The environmental review process led us to conclude that this action will not have a significant effect on the human environment. Therefore, an environmental impact statement will not be prepared. A copy of the finding of no significant impact (FONSI) including the supporting environmental assessment (EA) is enclosed for your information.

Although NOAA is not soliciting comments on this completed EA/FONSI, we will consider any comments submitted that would assist us in preparing future NEPA documents. Please submit any written comments to the responsible official named above.

Sincerely,
